*A*gain we present our Fall selections of Spring blooming bulbs which we think are most suitable for the middle west.

This past summer Mr. Asjes, Sr. has revisited Holland and has personally selected our bulb stocks. He found that the Dutch bulb crop in general was up to its usual good standard. However, as in any other industry, there is good, mediocre and poor quality and to the layman it is difficult to detect these qualities, but we have been importing Dutch bulbs for over thirty-five years and feel that we are qualified to select the best. Our bulbs are grown for us in the northern section of Holland in clay soil which is the best type of soil for growing bulbs that are to be used in landscaping.

We continually strive to improve our selections and as you will note in the following lists, we offer a few new varieties to supplement the older tried varieties which have proven satisfactory in past years. Each year we plant in our trial grounds about twenty new sorts of Tulips and Narcissus on which we observe not only their beauty but primarily their vigor and hardiness, and from these trials we make our selections for the newer varieties listed.

We hope that from this list we may serve you and that you may enjoy the beauty of Spring flowering bulbs.

Tulip Planting

Tulips are flowers that have a beauty which cannot be compared to, or approached by any other flower. They can add beauty to a garden as individuals, small groups or mass color displays. Even a single plant nods defiance to its surroundings. There are several ways in which they can be planted so that their elegance can be used to the best advantage.

In bordering a bed, it is recommended that they be staggered about six to eight inches apart.

To enhance a perennial bed, groups of twelve or more tulips are very effective.

Mass beauty can be attained in a large bed by planting triangular wedges of from twenty-five to one hundred bulbs each, arranged so that they make a continuous pattern. This makes an outstanding display of combinations. Care should be taken in selecting adjacent colors and shades.

Tulips should be planted to a depth of from five to six inches, and if the soil is heavy, the addition of some sand and bonemeal will help the growth and bloom ability of the bulbs.

Our tulip bulbs usually arrive in September. Planting time extends from that date until the ground freezes solid, which is about Christmas.

Darwin Tulips are distinguished by their strong, tall stems and large shapely flowers. They flower at the same time as Breeder Tulips, during the month of May.

Hardy Lilies

Through past experience we have found that our Imported Bulbs have been superior in size and quality to any others we have had. However, due to the length of time for shipping and curing of these bulbs they usually arrive too late in the Fall for us to make delivery on them. For this reason we pot these lily bulbs in five-inch pots and plunge them in cold frames and give them a chance to start root growth. When Spring comes they are well started and ready to plant in the garden by April 1st. This arrangement insures you of a healthy started bulb that will bloom the following Summer. We will be pleased to accept your order and deliver to you on that date.

In this climate, hardy lilies prefer a well drained, rich, loamy soil. They should be planted fairly deep and sand placed under and over the bulb.
